GRUBBS CASE ON TRIAL

Railroad Damage Suit in Circuit Court Two Days.

JUNE TERM ENDS TODAY.

Last Day For Making Orders With But Little Doing.

Circuit court will come to an end today, the last day of the June term. Today will be occupied with minor matters, with no important cases to be heard.

The testimony in the case of M. D. Grubbs against the L. & N. railroad, for construction of a bank that turned drainage on his property, which was alleged to be damageable to it, was finished yesterday and the arguments heard. Before taking the case, the jury went out to look at the property. The case was given into the hands of the jury yesterday afternoon.

NEGRO KILLED BY TRAIN

Sylvester Thompson, of Nashville, Meets Horrible Death Under Wheels.

Sylvester Thompson, col., was killed by an L. & N. freight train near the southern city limits Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock. Just before the fatal accident occurred Thompson, who had been in the city a week or two, told one of his friends that he was on his way home. A freight train came along and just as it was taking a siding for the Dixie Flyer, it is supposed Thompson attempted to get on, but missed his footing. As the negro's friend turned to see if Thompson caught the train he saw him being rolled over in front of the trucks. His body was badly mutilated.

Thompson was about 35 years old and lived in Nashville. Esq. J. M. Morris held an inquest and the body was shipped to Nashville yesterday.

REFUSED HALT FOR SUBMARINE

Sinking of Ship and Loss of American Lives Justified by Captain's Action.

TRIED HARD TO ESCAPE FATE.

Tragedy Will Have No Effect on U. S. Negotiations With Germany.

London, July 2.—Captain Trickey, of the Armenian. In an interview said he surrendered to the German submarine only when his ship was afire in three places, her engines were out of action, and a dozen of the crew had been killed by shrapnel fire.

Eleven of the members of the crew who perished, Captain Trickey said, were Americans.

"The submarine, as a signal for us to stop," said Captain Trickey, "first put a couple of shots over our bows when we were four miles off, I put my stern to him and ran for it.

"The submarine then began to shell us in earnest, the shrapnel bursting all around us, killing several of the crew and knocking others overboard. I soon realized the enemy was gaining on us, but I did not promise to surrender without a struggle but my steering gear was soon hit and placed out of commission. Then a shell fell into the engine room and another carried the Marconi house away. Still another cut down the funnel and disabled the stokers. "By this time the ship was on fire in three places and I decided to surrender. We had resisted the enemy for an hour, and twelve or thirteen men lay dead on the deck.

"The submarine commander then forced me to clear the ship and at seven minutes past eight the Armenian went down shattered by two torpedoes.

"I must say that the submarine commander showed us every fairness after we had given up, picking up many of the crew who, because of damaged boat, had fallen into the water.

The Austro-German drive northward into Poland from Galicia is gaining momentum and England is puzzled as to whether the German purpose is to make this the main effort or to continue a concentrated offensive to force the Russians from the southeast tip of Galicia.

Whatever the ultimate object is, fighting along the Gaila Lipa river has not abated and Ber in not only records progress here but also farther north in the area around Lemberg and along what has become the northern front, between the Vistula and the Bug.

The Austro-German forces on this front are estimated at 2,000,000 and their progress has been rapid. They have crossed the forest fringing the Tanew river and are not far from the Zamosc fortress, 25 miles north of the Galicia frontier.

Only a hundred miles to the north is the great Russian base Brest-Litovsk, linked with Warsaw by important railways and lying almost due east of the Polish capital.

The development of the Galician campaign has created a situation entirely unexpected by the allies.

A few months ago the Russians were at the Carpathian passes and in the spring confident predictions were made in England and France that Hungary soon would be overrun. The British press has been optimistic for weeks that the Russians would turn, but it now frankly concedes that the invasion of Russia is serious. The papers, however, put faith in Russia's campaign for the production of more munitions.

The Arras section maintains its reputation as the storm center of the west, but although losses are piling up daily neither side delivers a decisive blow.

An Athens dispatch tonight says the allies have taken the Turkish stronghold of Krithia, on the Gallipoli peninsula, to the western edge of which Gen. Ian Hamilton's report of yesterday carried his forces.

Gratification over the British progress in Gallipoli is hardly more pronounced than the realization of the tremendous task England and France face in their attempt to clear the Turks from natural defenses barring the way to Constantinople.

The first stroke against British naval craft in home waters for some time is announced by the admiralty tonight, which says that fourteen men have been lost by the mining or torpedoing of the destroyer Lightning, an old craft laid down two decades ago.

Boone Monument.

In commemoration of Daniel Boone's entry into Kentucky 165 years ago at the head of the first pioneer band of settlers from the Yadkin River valley, North Carolina, and his subsequent achievements in blazing a permanent trail and establishing the settlement of Boonesboro, thus helping to found the first great commonwealth west of the Alleghenies, a grateful people of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina, Tuesday unveiled and dedicated with appropriate ceremonies at Cumberland Gap, the Boone Trail Monument.

HUERTA IS STILL HELD

Government Not Ready To Try Him Thursday--Set For July 12.

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—The case against Victoriano Huerta, Pascual Orozco and four others charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws was postponed to day to July 12. The defendants were continued under the same bond.

The postponement was granted on request of attorneys for the prosecution. R. E. Crawford, Assistant United States Attorney, stated that the Government had been unable to collect and arrange all its evidence or to bring important witnesses into court.

Those accused together with the bonds under which they were held, are:

Gen. Victoriano Huerta, $15,000 bond.
Gen. Pascual Orozco, $7,500 bond.
Gen. Marcelo Caraveo, $5,000 bond.
Jose Zozaya, El Paso, $7,500 bond.
Ike Aderete, El Paso, $4,000 bond.
Frank Alderete, El Paso, $4,000 bond.

HOLIDAY HONORED

Picnic at Campbell's Cave Greatly Enjoyed Yesterday.

The first event toward the celebration of the glorious fourth was the Elk's picnic at Campbell's cave yesterday. The attendance was not entirely confined to members of the lodge, but a large number of outsiders were present. Nearly three hundred and fifty attended. The whole crowd was in the gayest mood and everyone had a fine time. The big barbecue dinner was the feature of the occasion.

After dinner there was a lot of post prandial oratory.

Women Aroused.

That the case of Madeline Ferola, the Italian woman now facing the death chair in Sing Sing, is even a more flagrant instance of the miscarriage of justice than the Frank case, is declared by a number of prominent women in New York who met to formulate plans to keep Mrs. Ferola from the chair if possible.

ELECTION MONDAY

New Officers to Be Chosen For Hopkinsville B. M. A.

DOUBLE NOMINATIONS MADE.

Voting To Be By Ballot at Meeting Place From 9 to 4.

The annual election of officers for the B. M. A. will be held Monday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., in the offices of the association.

President Cooper has designated R. T. Stowe and G. E. Dalton to conduct the election and official ballots have been printed, which will be given out to those entitled to vote. All members not 3 months in arrears are entitled to vote. There are now about 160 members.

Two nominations each have been made for president, first and second vice-presidents, and treasurer. Twelve directors are to be elected and 24 nominations have been made. Other names may be written on the ballots in spaces left for that purpose. But little interest is seemingly being taken in the positions, which carry with them considerable responsibility. The new directors will elect a secretary at their first meeting.

As Lemon Sees It

Mr. McDermott is a nice gentleman, learned in the law and capable of making a good governor, but looking out over the situation, we fail to believe that he has any chance to receive the democratic nomination, and more especially since Hon. Jas. Edwards became a candidate for lieutenant governor. He and Mr. McDermott are both from the same city and it is hardly probable that the people will support both of them and we believe the coming into the race for lieutenant governor, by Mr. Edwards, has virtually put Mr. McDermott out of the running.

Mr. Bosworth has been down in this end of the state for the past week or ten days and has been making an earnest and active campaign, but in all justice to him and to the facts in the case, we cannot hear that he has added very materially to his strength, in fact, he has not a very strong following in the first congressional district and it is our opinion that he has not a show of carrying a single county in the district, but wherever he has any strength he will be third in the race.

Mr. McChesney has lost much of his following since his trip through this end of the state and now the vote of this district in the main will be between him and Mr. Stanley, with the prospects that Mr. Stanley will carry the district by several hundred majority. It looks now that Mr. Stanley will carry Caldwell, Lyon, Trigg, Marshall, Fulton, Graves, Carlisle, Ballard and McCracken counties. We may not have the dope exactly correct at this writing, but that is the way the governor's race looks to us at present, but as the campaign progresses and as the Messenger becomes better informed as to the strength of the various candidates, it will so announce in its columns.—Mayfield Messenger.

CO. D. WON

Over Cadiz Team By a Close Score.

In a hotly contested game, Thursday, at Cadiz, the "Co. D" aggregation won its third straight victory by the narrow margin of one point. The final count stood 8 to 7. For "Co. D" the feature playing was the fielding of Waller, at short stop, and the hitting of West and Fenton Cunningham. Edwards, who started pitching, was knocked from the rubber in the second frame and was replaced by Underwood, who finished out the game. The local boys drove over to Cadiz in Waller & Trice's big auto truck.

Growth of Libraries.

The report of the secretary of the Kentucky Library Commission, Miss Fannie Rawson, showed that since 1911, the first year of its operation, the number of public libraries in the State has grown from twenty-six to forty-eight, and college libraries from ten to seventeen, many of these through the encouragement and assistance of the commission, and there are libraries in sixty-five of the 120 counties. During the last six months libraries were established in Ashland, Bardwell, Columbia, Erlanger, Georgetown, Princeton and Stanford. Frankfort and Hopkinsville have advanced from the ranks of subscription to free libraries. Corbin has a building under way and municipal support; Hopkinsville, Danville and Winchester have new Carnegie buildings and Taylorsville a building secured by the King's Daughters' Circle. Horse Cave has combined its library with the school library. A total of 145 of the traveling libraries have been renovated; in 6 months 138 have traveled in 60 counties and during the year the number has reached 258, circulating the 12,900 volumes among 64,500 patrons. Accessions by gift, purchase and otherwise since December have been 1,451 and the total number of volumes in the hands of the commission, allowing for withdrawals, is 10,625.

A German submarine has shelled, torpedoed and sunk the Dominion Line freight steamer Armenian off the coast of Cornwall, Eng. and, as a result twenty Americans are among the missing. The Armenian, flying the British flag, carried a cargo of mules from Newport News, Va., and twelve of the missing Americans are negro muleteers. The other eight are whites, having from various parties of the United States. The gravity of the incident and the action of the American Government, it is stated, depend on the charter of the vessel and whether she was unarmed.

Miss Genevieve Clark, the 20-year-old daughter of Speaker Champ Clark, was married Tuesday afternoon to Mr. James M. Thomson, editor of the New Orleans Item. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert S. Boyd, of Louisville, at the home of Speaker Clark at Bowling Green, Mo.

The United States is seriously considering taking over the Sayville wireless plant, which has direct communication with Germany, through fear of neutrality violations. Investigation has shown that it is possible to communicate with submarines across the Atlantic through this powerful plant.

Theo. B. Blakey, one of the two Republican candidates for attorney general, has withdrawn and no primary will be necessary in that race. The nominee will be Thos. B. McGregor whose opponents will be M. M. Logan, Democrat, and Alton D. Cole, Progressive.

The demand of the State Adjutant General that the National Guard be granted a cent a-mile rate to the annual encampment at Owensboro was considered at a conference of railroad officials and others in Louisville Tuesday.

Mrs. Hardin Atherton, 45 years old, was struck by lightning and killed instantly in her home near Roanoke, LaRue county. Her husband was struck and for a while he was thought dead.

Wm. Anz, a druggist, was killed in an automobile accident in Louisville.

What Causes Tuberculosis?

THERE can be no tuberculosis without the germ, the tubercle bacillus. Whether the disease appears in the lungs, in the hand, in the hips, or in the eye, it is the same germ that always causes it.

Looking at it from another way, however, the germ of tuberculosis can never cause the disease unless the soil has been prepared for it. It is as if the germ were the seed and the body were the soil. You cannot raise wheat on a hard, cobblestone pavement nor can you grow corn on a boardwalk. Neither can you grow tuberculosis from the tiny plant-like germ which causes the disease, on a soil which is hard and resistant. The tissues of the body in which the disease is to develop must first be weakened and made flabby and prepared for the growth of the disease somewhat as the farmer prepares his soil before sowing his seed.

What are the causes that prepare the soil for the growth of tuberculous germs in the body? There are first of all, a group of causes which lie within the individual himself, which we may call personal causes. Some of them may be controlled by the individual and some of them are beyond his control. Take such causes, for example, as intemperance, lack of proper food, a weakened physical condition caused by grippé, colds, pneumonia, measles, typhoid fever, etc.—these are some of the personal causes which prepare the soil for the tuberculous seed. Then there is also another group of causes which are entirely outside of the individual and which we may designate as environmental or social causes. Some of these are, for example, bad living and working conditions, lack of play and recreation facilities, unclean streets, etc.

These two groups of causes may either separately or altogether, act upon one so that his normal strength and vitality, which we call resistance, is lowered and he readily becomes a prey to the disease germs which are constantly lurking about and which he may be harboring in his body without knowing it. Let us consider some of these causes a little more in detail.

Of the personal causes that lead to tuberculosis, probably intemperance may be reckoned as one of the most important. By intemperance is meant everything in the way of self-indulgence that injures the body. One may be intemperate in eating and by partaking of too much food may produce permanent digestive disturbance which weakens the bodily resistance. One may be intemperate in the use of drugs or in other ways, thereby weakening the bodily resistance. The most frequent form of intemperance, however, is the use of intoxicating liquors. Any man who drinks beer, wine or whiskey to excess is preparing the soil of his lungs for the seed of tuberculosis. This is the reason why the mortality from tuberculosis among men and women who are accustomed to drink is so high, much higher according to reliable statistics than among people who do not use intoxicating liquors.

Many children from the time they are born into the world are doomed to starvation. Other people because they like candy, pie, and cake better than meat, bread, and vegetables, are starving themselves willfully. This underfeeding or lack of proper food will as surely prepare the soil for tuberculosis as if one deliberately set out to do so.

Many people have a notion that if they have apparently recovered from a bad cold or an attack of grippé or pneumonia, there is no further danger and they are perfectly safe. Oftentimes the most dangerous period in an acute disease is during the few weeks immediately after the patient is able to be up and about. It is during this time of convalescence that the seeds of disease will find a sure root if special care is not taken. Fresh air, good food, rest, and right living are the best safeguards against tuberculosis during a time such as this. The after-effects of many diseases can be avoided if the patient will continue to persist in taking care of himself just the same as he did when he was in the bed and under the doctor's orders.

Then there are those causes of tuberculosis which are entirely outside of the individual such as bad housing conditions. Dark rooms where the sun never shines are among the best breeding places possible for the germs of tuberculosis. Here they thrive in great quantities and it is almost impossible to dislodge them. Dark, filthy hallways, nuclear sinks, and dirty backyards and toilets are also menaces to the health of those who live near them. Many a man can improve these conditions with a little effort if he will take the time to do so. More often, however, it is the landlord's fault that the housing conditions are not better.

Low wages, long hours of work, dark unventilated factory rooms, excessive heat, and dusty occupations are only a few of the conditions which make it easy for the seed of tuberculosis to attack the working man. The lack of proper places for play and recreation, which makes a man go to the saloon at night instead of into the park or playground, is a social cause leading to tuberculosis. These social causes can be fought only by the united effort of the men and women of the community. Individuals can help but it takes all shoulders at the wheel to produce effective results.

In conclusion, remember that the soil must be right before the seed of tuberculosis can grow, and that you can contribute much towards keeping the soil of your body in such condition that no germs will find a root there.

(NOTE—This is the Third of a Series of Five Articles Prepared by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, New York City.)

Rare Old Coat.

A richly embroidered coat, once the property of an emperor of China, has been sent to be sold for the queen's work for women fund in London. For 170 years it was preserved in an airtight case in the palace of Peking, where it was held in veneration. The fabric is of purple black satin, with the embellishments in different shades of blue, the part of the sleeves turned back being embroidered in rainbow colors. The coat was brought to England after the last Chinese revolution.

He Would Not Take No.

"I'll not take 'no' for an answer, Miss Hunker—Priscilla," he declared bravely, as he persistently pressed his suit. "Then, sir," replied the cold and cultured Boston girl, rising proudly to the occasion, "will you, in lieu of that much hackneyed negative assertion, accept my positive declaration to respond concurrently to the query propounded?" And he did.

Men to Be Trusted.

Strong Ale.

Even Gladstone, with all his fondness for Burton, might have found egg ale too strong for him. There were several methods of preparing this beverage, which was largely drunk in the days of Pepys, but the following appears to have been the most popular: "To 12 gallons of ale add the gravy of eight pounds of beef, a pound of raisins, oranges and spice; then place 12 eggs and the gravy beef in a linen bag and leave in the barrel until the ale has ceased to ferment, when two quarts of Mirlaga sack should be added. The ale must be bottled after three weeks in cask, and should then, in a short time, be ready for use."—London Chronicle.

Upward Progress.

HOW HE ESCAPED.

"Your majesty," said the chief to the cannibal king, "that missionary you ordered for dinner is increased from head to foot in a suit of armor."

"Turn him loose," growled his royal highness. "You know I have no appetite for canned goods."

UNPROFITABLE.

"If you'd assume a more genial manner you would get along better in business."

"Huh! I tried it once and everybody I met wanted to borrow money."

HIS PART.

"So you're in the new play that's to be presented tonight—leading man?"

"No, misleading man. I throw the detective off the scent."

TOO MUCH SO.

"He is a man of great promise, isn't he?"

"Sure he is. Just now he is being snafed for breach of it."

THE RIGHT KIND.

"You have to have nerve these days to run a car."

"Yes; what you might call motor nerve."

A CALUMNY.

"They tell me your son needed mentality at school, Mrs. Comenp." "That's a lie. My son didn't need nothin' that money could buy."

Money.

"Money makes the mare go," or perhaps it's vice versa, as a well-known gambler and race-horse owner once remarked. We presume money is desirable or else such a gigantic number of people would not be so busily engaged in the attempt to make some or make more. But the irony or justice of great wealth is that when we have everything that money can buy we awake to the realization that money cannot buy everything.

Record In Hard Work.

Lord George Bentinck's record of political work, as set out by his biographer, seems even more striking than that accomplished by Wellington in 1834. "It is very difficult," writes Disraeli, "to convey a complete picture of the laborious life of Lord George Bentinck during the sitting of parliament. At 9:30 began his elaborate and methodical correspondence, all of which he carried on himself in a handwriting clear as print, and never employing a secretary; at twelve or one o'clock he was at a committee, and he only quitted the committee-room to take his seat in the house, which he never left until it adjourned, always long past midnight and often at 2 a. m. His principle was that a member should never be absent from his seat. . . . Although he breakfasted only on dry toast, he took no sustenance all this time, dining at White's at 2:30 in the morning."—London Daily Chronicle.

Two In Plain Sight.

A small girl of five years was interested in gardening and for the first time in her life had a garden of her own. One day her aunt came to see them, bringing the baby, who had two new teeth. Little May was excited over the two new arrivals and exclaimed, "O, auntie, two has come up!"

TOWNS THAT RESIST FLAMES

Structures In Europe Are Hard to Destroy, Even When Work Is Prosecuted With Energy.

The cities and towns of Belgium and northern France do not burn easily. This reflection must have come to nearly everybody who follows the news from the main battle region of western Europe. Cities and villages that have been frequently under bombardment by larger cannon and faster firing cannon and greater numbers of cannon than have ever before been used in war, survive though breached and battered, but they do not burn. In some cities whole districts have been crushed and crumbled by artillery fire, but flames started in a hundred different spots have not swept the place off the map. Most American towns, if subjected to such an ordeal, would be but a pile of cinders, a black scar on the landscape.

Where villages have been burned in the western fighting area, it has been necessary, so say the accounts, to set fire to the place house by house. The interior woodwork goes up in flames, but stonework or brick walls, tiled roofs and other things have prevented the spread of the flames from house to house and from quarter to quarter. There is a lesson for America in the comparatively noninflammable towns of Europe.

ITALIANS LIKED IN IRELAND

Latin Exiles Have From Very Early
Times Figured In The Life of Dublin.

Towards the end of the eighteenth century the resident noblemen of Ireland spent a large amount of money in decorating their mansions—a necessary outlay at a time when there was a regular Dublin season, and when the Irish country gentleman had his seat in either the Irish house of lords or the Irish house of commons. They were especially anxious to give beautiful interiors to their mansions, which were stately though rather severe, and they invited to Dublin a number of Italian workmen, who might bring to the humid climate of Ireland something of the grace, the joy and sunshine of the South.

Thus there grew up in Dublin for some years a small colony of Italian decorators. The identity in religion between Italians and Irish may perhaps explain why the Italian exile has been always something of a figure in Dublin life. He has always been represented by the beautiful boy that hawks the statuettes of the saints and the other figures of the New Testament which Irish families so dearly love to have among their household possessions and ornaments.

ANCIENTS HELD FLY IN AWE.

The fly is recognized as likely to be one of the deadliest combatants of the coming summer, unless adequate precautions are taken against it, as Britain, France and Germany all intend to do. One is reminded of the awe in which the ancients held the fly. Beelzebub, the lord of flies, was the equivalent of sundry such divinities, such as Zeno Apomios (driver away of flies) and Hercules Muiagros (fly catcher). Beelzebub also was no doubt honored as an avenger of the nuisance. But the fly was almost certainly detested in those old days not so much as a disease carrier as on account of its direct worry. One of the prettiest pictures in Homer is that of the mother brushing away the flies from the face of her babe.

CAUSE OF THE SPLIT.

The Friend—It's too bad your domestic barge split on the rocks.
The Grass Widow—But it didn't. The split was due to a lack of rocks.

THE RIGHT WAY.

"How did your friends get along after that flood disaster?"
"Oh, they're coming on swimmingly."

PROOFS.

"That singer used to be a player in the national game."
"I thought his voice had rather a bass bawl pitch."

NOT NECESSARY.

"Do you believe in encouraging boys to fight?"
"No more than in encouraging ducks to swim."

Those Bad Spells.

Lebanon Jct., Ky.—Mrs. Minnie Lamb, of this place, says: "I believe I would have been dead by now, had it not been for Cardui. I have't had one of those bad spells since I commenced to use this medicine." Cardui is a specific medicine for the ills from which women suffer. Made from harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is a safe, reliable remedy, and has been successfully used by weak and ailing women for more than 50 years. Thousands of women have been helped back to health and happiness by its use. Why not profit by their experience? A trial will convince you that Cardui is just what you need.—Advertisement.

Where the Blame Belonged.
Many veterans can recall the powerful and persuasive eloquence of Colonel Morrow of Detroit when he was calling for patriots to enlist in the Civil war. Just after the battle of Fredericksburg a deserter was brought before him. Nothing so roused the colonel's indignation as a willful desertion or cowardice, and he turned on the weak-kneed soldier in a towering rage and said: "What do you mean by deserting your post in the hour of your country's peril? Have you no feeling of patriotism? Why did you ever enlist if you are such a coward?" "Well, colonel," said the soldier, "if you want to know I'll tell you why I enlisted. It was that — speech of yours at Livonia."

His Liberal System.
"Yes, I give my boy a regular sum for spending money. I find it's the best way."

"How much?"
"Fifty cents a week. It seems plenty, doesn't it? He's sixteen."
"Why, yes, I suppose it's plenty. You give it to him every Monday, do you?"
"No, I deposit it for him every Saturday."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GOOD LESSON FOR MICHAEL

Disobliging Coachman Got a Merited
Rebuke From His Thoughtful Employer.

The late Mr. H. B. Claffin, who was one of the great merchants of the last generation, lived for many years at Kingsbridge, one of the suburbs of New York. It was his whim to have each morning before breakfast a drink of cold water fresh from a spring near the house.

One very rainy morning the pitcher was not in its usual place, and he asked the waitress why it was missing.

"Why, Mr. Claffin," she said, "it was raining so hard and is so muddy that I was afraid if I went after the water I should be too soiled to wait on the table. I asked Michael to get it for me, but he said it was his business to look after the horses and carriages, not to run errands."

"Oh!" said Mr. Claffin thoughtfully. "Perhaps he is right, Ella. Please tell him I want the victoria."

Ten minutes later, with much tramping of hoofs and clanging of bits, the carriage drew up at the door, with Michael on the box in his rubber coat and hat cover.

"Come, Ella," said Mr. Claffin, "get your pitcher," and taking her by the arm, he walked down the front steps and helped her into the carriage.

"Michael," said he, "drive Ella to the spring and back, so she can get me some water without muddying herself."

Ever after Michael used to fill the pitcher on rainy mornings without even waiting to be asked.

MISUNDERSTOOD

"Too bad about Jack. My husband said he was always a friend in need."

"Yes, always."

HERE'S PROBLEM IN SAVING.

One dollar at five per cent compound interest for 1,000 years would amount to 104 quintillion, 69 quadrillion, 620 trillion, 917 billion, 985 million, 83 thousand, 392 dollars ($104,669,620,917,985,083,392). This is the result obtained by Edwin Soule, a freshman in the Newport high school, says a Marysville (Pa.) dispatch to the Philadelphia North American.

Assistant Principal G. W. Barnitz of the school wagged young Soule that he could not solve the problem. Soule worked until midnight one night, consuming two tablets and four pencils. He received his dollar

ANTISTRENUOUS.

Askitt—I say, old man, how did you happen to marry a widow?
Easy—Well, you see, I did my courting as I do everything else—along the line of least resistance.

WHERE MATCHES ARE MADE.

Teacher—Ethel, can you tell me where most of the matches are made?
Ethel—I'm not sure, but I guess it's Germany, Sweden or heaven.

LOGIC.

Helen—Turn down the light, Bob, and then we can talk about love.
Bob—But, my dear, we will then be in the dark about it.—Judge.

A FITTING REASON.

"Why do they call the national card game poker?"
"Possibly because the winner shows in the cash."

LIMITATIONS.

"A statesman is supposed to be familiar with all other nations."
"Yes," replied Miss Cleverson, "but not necessarily with all the answers."

VAGUE MEANING.

"Did your husband like our imported wine?"
"He was just full of it when he came home."

PRINCESS

-- TO-DAY --

"THE ISLAND OF REGENERATION"

An adaption of Cyrus Townsend Brondy's novel of the same name, in six parts. It is an exceptionally satisfying production as a human interest drama and as an artistic photoplay, in the matter of physical environment. Edith Story is just the actress to portray the part of Katherine Brenton. She swims much as nature intended without the hampering skirts of a modern bathing suit. Likewise she poses gracefully on a rock, merely incidents to be sure. You will long remember this wonderful V-L S-E Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Masterpiece. The price of admission will remain the same. Children under 6 admitted free when accompanied with a parent. Children over 6, 5c. Children over 15 years 10c. Adults 10c.

REX

-- TO-DAY --

James Morrison, Dorothy Kelly, George Cooper, Lillian Burns, featured in

"FOUR GRAINS OF RICE"

A Vitagraph special feature in two acts. By putting two and two together the Mongolian's plot is uncovered and its victims rescued to enjoy their delayed happiness.—To day.

Selig special feature in two acts Wm. Stowel, Marion Warner, Lillian Haymond, Edwin Wallock, Lillian Marshall, Ada Gleason.

"LONELY LOVERS"

Violet Wynne, aspirant for stage honors, is ridiculed by a couple of "experienced" actresses but is defended by Van Cleet and Jerry Phillips. This is a very interesting romance of the stage and love.—To-day.

Biograph Western Drama. Walter Code, Mary Malatesta, Ervin Christy.

"A FOOL'S GOLD"

This Western drama has many thrilling incidents and is full of action from start to finish.—To-day.

Vitagraph Drama. Naomi Childers, Rose Tapley, Lucille Hammill, C. Eldridge.

"PHILANTHROPIC TOMMY"

She welcomes a queer lot as her birthday guests. Her parents are shocked but very happy that Tommy has saved her sister from a terrible mistake.—To-day.

--- MONDAY ---

Fox Film Corporation presents Charles Richman, Cathrine Countess. In five acts

"THE IDLER"

One of England's greatest dramatists. A story of love and intrigue. The idle rich and their escapades. A quick moving theme covering scenes of powerful dramatic intensity. Admission 5c and 10c.—Monday.

Musical.

Mrs. Robt Fairleigh was the hostess of a musicale yesterday morning at 10:30, at her home on North Main street. An attractive program of music was much enjoyed by the guests. Ice and cakes were served.

Dinner Party.

Mr. Lucien Davis was the host of a thoroughly enjoyable dinner party Thursday evening at Hotel Latham to compliment Mr. and Mrs. John B. Chilton of Eddyville. After the dinner was over the guests were taken to the Princess theatre for the rest of the evening.

Salvation Army.

Special services Saturday and Sunday, July 3 and 4. Mr. Robert Henderson, the singing evangelist, will remain in the city and will take part in the services on the street and in the hall. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Evening service 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to the public. Corps Cadet Baxter, of Nashville headquarters, will also speak and sing.

PURELY PERSONAL

REX

J. Clarence Yon, the star left-handed twirler, who was the idol of Hoptown fans when the Kitty was enjoying life, has been in town for several days shaking hands with his friends. Yon pitched last in the South Carolina league.

Mrs. C. E. Miller and daughter, Aileen, of Gadsden, Ala., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wallis.

Miss Elizabeth Carter is visiting in Cadiz.

Hon. Sherman Goodpaster, of Bath county, democratic candidate for State Treasurer, was in the city yesterday shaking hands with his friends and looking after his campaign in this county.

Miss Mary Neville Hancock leaves today for Mayfield, where she will spend several weeks.

Miss Lucille Turner of Cerulean, is visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Mrs. Fannie May Owsley and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Owsley and child, of Mt. Vernon, Ill., will arrive tonight and board at Bethel College.

Misses Hattie Rena and Vera K. Milhous of South Carolina are expected in the city tonight on visit to their sister, Mrs. W. S. Peterson at Bethel College.

Miss Edwin Elliott, who spent several weeks with relatives in St. Louis, returned home Thursday night and will resume teaching near Hamby station, Monday.

R. A. Cook, who was taken ill in Lexington during the recent Republican convention, after spending ten days in a hospital, has returned home.

Mr. A. M. Cayce, Agricultural Agent of Mason county, who was here with the recent visitors, is visiting Mr. B. G. Nelson.

Vitagraph special feature in two acts, featuring James Morrison, Dorothy Kelly and George Cooper.

"FOUR GRAINS OF RICE."

This impressive Vitagraph Melodrama showing at the Rex is sure to appeal to all. A splendid story, action where every move counts for something, and a superb cast of Vitagraph Players combine to make this a true feature in every respect. "The Four Grains of Rice" is a Chinese Tong, or social organization, the leader of whom, Moy Wong, tries to get a young white girl in his power. He nearly succeeds, but through the rivalry and vengeance of a rival Tong, called "The Sons of the Brazen Joss," the suave villain is trapped and the girl and her lover saved. The remarkable secrecy and deadliness of these Tong wars is vividly pictured. You will follow the adventures of the hero and heroine breathlessly. George Cooper as Moy Wong, James Morrison, Dorothy Kelly and other Vitagraphers are in the cast.

LONELY LOVERS.

Lonely Lovers is a two-reel comedy drama with the atmosphere of the theatrical boarding house. Lonely Lovers was written by Maibelle Heiks Justice and produced by E. A. Martin. Violet Wynne, aspirant for stage honors, is ridiculed by a couple of "experienced" actresses, but is defended by Van Cleet and Jerry Phillips. She wins a place for herself in the great tragedian's theatrical company and also wins a place for herself in the heart of Jerry. Lonely Lovers at the Rex theatre to-day.

-TO-

Farmers

Who Raise Cattle,
Hogs And Sheep.

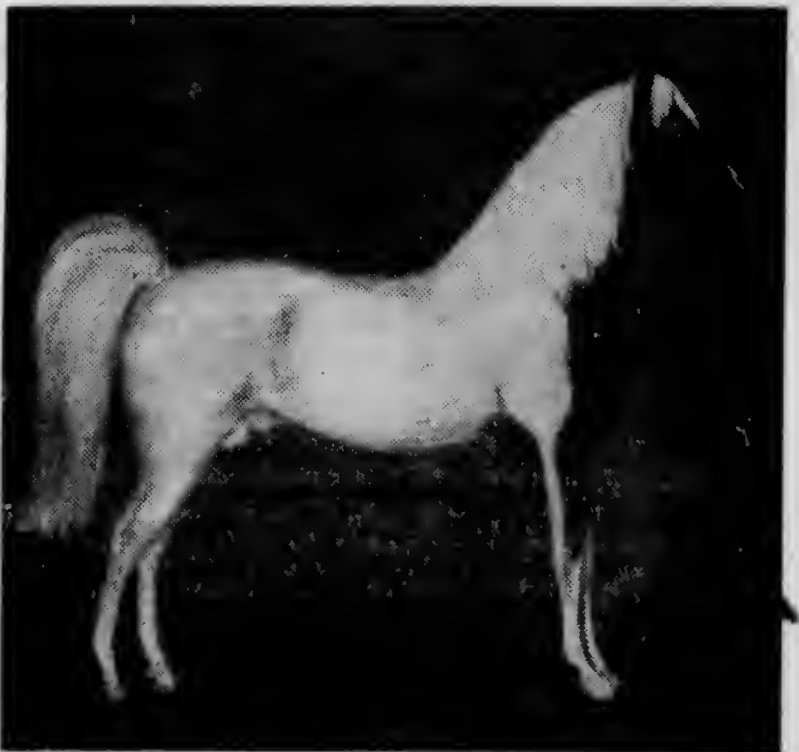

Did you know that when you sell your cattle, hogs and sheep to a live stock dealer that he makes from 1 cent to 1 1-2 cents per lb. in the transaction? And if that be true you are the loser. The profits to a stock dealer or middle man on a 1,000 lb. cow or a steer would be at least $10. He just turns it over to the local butcher the same day of purchase, while you, Mr. Farmer, have had the trouble and care of feeding and raising it for 12 months and you only get about pay for your feed, not much more. Call on us at our place of business when you have cattle, hogs and sheep for sale. We will give you the profit in your pockets that the stock dealer and middle man has heretofore been getting.

Squire Hartsock has brought his bath tub in from the barn where he had it stored all winter while it was out of season for bathing.

Deacon Ebbesole choloformed a litter of six kittens yesterday and feelings run high against him as being a pillar of the church.

Dick Blebsoe slipped off a load of fodder yesterday, and the concussion on his spinal vertebra was excruciatingly prostrating.

There was much excitement in the town pump neighborhood, last Monday when Mrs. Deacon Hawkins called Squire Hansford an old hypocrite and bullet healed because he

Doc. McFadden, our enterprising M. D., has put out a sign which reads: "Tapeworms Removed From Your Midst While You Wait."

Deacon Hawkins brought a full quart of drinking liquor at Bloomington on show day. He says he will keep it on hand for snake bites only.

Jim Spivins got credit for another bottle of stomach bitters at the store last night. Ed Biscomb didn't want to let him have it, but Jim said the baby was worse.

Bill Higgins' brand new shoes got badly scuffed at a party last night by the girls dancing all over his feet.

Love Ann Long is down again with liver trouble. Doc. McFadden says that the flow of liver juice was Zeb Hawkins was arrested by Constable Si Plum for digging on his lot on Sunday, but Squire Hartford ruled that it was a case of necessity as you can't catch any fish without bait.

Jim Silvers has become more resigned to married life since his mother-in-law died.

While singing in the Hardshell choir last Sunday, Arminia Jones got choked on her false teeth, and she was seized with a hacking cough, which muchly marred the melody of the sacred hymn. We hope that it will not occur again.

Dick Meardsley went to Martinsville and Tom Hacker went to Bloomington today. It is said that these men are to decide a bet made at the store last night as to the difference

PERTINENT QUESTION OF BOY

Willie Figures It Out How Father Is So Small and His Uncle Jim So Big and Tall.

At a dinner party reference was made to pertinent questions, and Congressman James S. Parker of New York recalled the story of how something along that line was exploded by little Willie.

William had an uncle on his mother's side who was a six-footer, while his father wasn't much bigger than a full-grown sparrow. Watching his uncle one day thoughts came into Willie's mind.

"Mamma," said he, turning to his maternal relative, "how is it that Uncle Jim grew so big and tall?" "He was always a good little boy," carefully explained mamma, "and because of that God permitted him to grow up tall and strong."

"I see," thoughtfully used Willie, and then added, "when father was a boy I guess he must have been some kind of a sinner."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Masculine Way.

"It's a wonder old Adam didn't make a kick when he lost his job as head gardener of Eden," said Growells. "Oh, he was just like the men of today," rejoined his wife.

"How's that?" asked the beginner of the trouble. "He waited until he got home," explained Mrs. Growells, "and then proceeded to raise Cain."

Fully Qualified.

Office Manager—So you want a job, er? What kind of work can you do? Applicant—Well, I hardly know. Until recently I was assistant instructor in a boxing school, but—

Office Manager (interrupting)—Oh, I can use you all right. Come around in the morning and box our mail order shipments, and in the afternoon you can lick the stamps.

"Just as Good."

We gazed pityingly on the listless drug store clerk leaning against the soda counter.

"Haven't you any ambition?" we inquired, kindly and all that. "No," he replied, with brightening intelligence, "but I have something just as good."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Alas! Too True.

Him—As a rule a man treats a woman as she deserves to be treated. Her—Yes, I suppose so; but there are exceptions to all rules.

Him—What is the exception to this one? Her—Well, sometimes he marries her.

HANDICAP.

"So you are hustled again! Well, there's a sucker born every minute." "Yes, and take it from me, old chap, there's a shark horn every second."

True, But Misleading.

"Dick hugged me last night before I had the faintest idea of what he was about."

"And what did you do?" "Why, of course, I was instantly up in arms about it."

The Worst Way.

"That man wrote a highly abusive letter about the injuries he had received."

"Oh, that's not the proper way to write one's wrongs."

Their Peculiarity.

"Are Italian sunsets any different from other sunsets that they should be so called?"

"Yes, inasmuch as they make the day go."

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour glistering just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you this extraordinary offer. We will give to you

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

This master of the pen shows you the story that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Duruy's masterpiece in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

Relation of Malaria to Agriculture.

An intensive study of the decrease of productiveness in an agricultural community due to malaria has been made by the bureau of entomology in Madison Parish, La. It was found that 12 families, cultivating 246 acres of land, lost an aggregate of 88 weeks during the crop-growing season from this cause, or more than seven weeks per family. The financial loss in this case was estimated at $24 per family. Where the boll-weevil prevails the loss to be much heavier, as farmers to keep up the cultivation of the crop or to plant at the proper time gives the weevil a decided advantage. It is clear from these investigations that the present loss through malaria in the southern states amounts to many millions of dollars.—Scientific American.

It is impossible, at this late date, to say very much about Nimrod, either as to when he lived or what he did. The "mighty hunter before the Lord" may have been a historical character, but at any rate we know very little of him. All that we know of him is found in the tenth chapter of Genesis.

DAIRY FACTS

CLEANLINESS IN THE DAIRY

Milk Passes Through Many Hands From Cow to Consumer—Strainer Does Not Remove Filth.

The importance of putting upon the market milk that is clean and of good quality should call for special effort on the part of the dairymen, for the reason that the consumer is willing to pay more for it if convinced of the fact of the superiority of the products.

Loy Pail—Cover Aids in Keeping Out Dirt.

Milk passes through so many hands from the cow to the consumer as to render the matter of obtaining pure and clean milk a difficult one. Too many console themselves with the fact that they strain the milk before selling it, but the strainer does not remove soluble filth.

It is gratifying to know that some dairymen wash the udders of the cows at every milking time, wiping them clean with towels, avoiding every chance of filth entering the milk. Such dairymen get good prices, which are secured by their reputation for skillful management of their cows and their products.

The cow is not as clean as the hog, so far as selecting a suitable place for resting is concerned, and where the dairymen himself is careless and does not keep the stalls clean, as well as brush the cows and wash the udders, it is almost impossible to have clear milk.

SLATTED COLLAR IS USEFUL

Device Makes It Quite Impossible for Cow to Turn Her Head Far Enough to Reach Teats.

It is difficult of breaking a cow of sucking herself. About the only thing that can be done is to make some device by means of which she will be prevented from doing so.

One of the simplest and best of these is a slatted collar. For the ordinary-sized cow take two inch straps, 32 inches long, with buckles in one end and a few holes punched in the other. Place the straps about nine inches apart and rivet to them ten or eleven slats, leaving a space for one and one-half inches between each slat. The slats should be about one inch wide and 11 inches long and sharpened at both ends.

When this collar is placed around the cow's neck and buckled it will be impossible for her to swing her head around far enough to reach her teats.

PROPER FEEDING OF CALVES

Make Changes in Feeds Gradual—Clover and Alfalfa Should Be Kept Before Young Animals.

Keep the feeding pails clean. All changes in feeds should be made gradually.

Grain should be offered to calves at an early age. Get them to eat it as soon as they will.

Feed sweet milk if possible. If you cannot have sweet milk regularly, have sour milk regularly, but avoid changing from sweet to sour.

Keep clover or alfalfa hay before the calves at all times. They should be encouraged to eat a great deal of these two legumes, as the bulkiness of them tends to enlarge the digestive capacities of the calves and the large amount of protein in such hay promotes rapid growth.

Mixing Feed for Calves.

When feeding the calf never mix meal, shorts or bran with the milk. Oil meal is not a good food to mix with skim milk. Ground flaxseed soaked in six times its bulk of cold water will make a jelly that can be used advantageously mixed with the milk, a pint of jelly to four quarts of milk. Cooking the flaxseed impairs its value.

Obtain Richer Cream.

The separator can be made to skim richer cream by turning the cream screw towards the center of the bowl, by increasing the speed, and by lessening the inflow of milk to the bowl. The reverse will cause thinner cream. The percentage of fat will vary some from day to day, due to the variation in one or more of these factors.

Don't Worry--Eat.

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma D. Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years, but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger, and haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude." Don't worry about your symptoms—Cardui doesn't treat them. What you need is strength. Cardui helps you to get it. Take Cardui, because other tonics and medicines do not contain its peculiar and successful ingredients, imported especially for its manufacture. Half a century of success, has stamp of Cardui with the seal of public approval. During this time, Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Try it, today.—Advertisement.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." PUBLIC ROADS

MORE ATTENTION TO BRIDGES

Greatest Menace to Tractor Which Could Be Put to More Use on Many of the Small Farms.

We will never be able to readily make much use of the gas or steam tractor on the farms until we make up our minds to pay more attention to our roads and bridges. Especially the bridges. They are the greatest menace to the tractor and the tractor's driver, and there has been little improvement in the type of bridges since the engine was put to work on the farms writes William E. Rose of Iowa in Farm Progress.

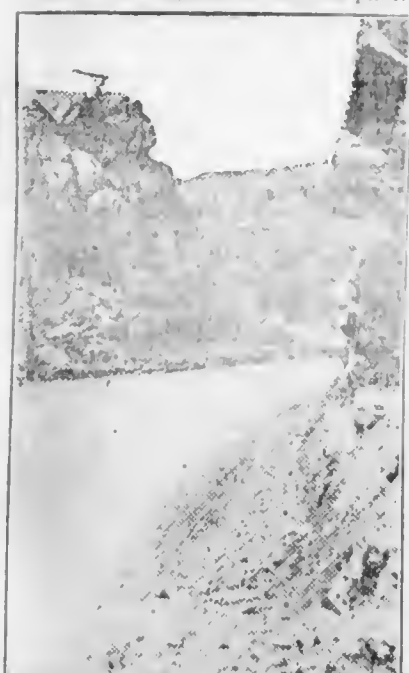

It is rather strange that we are willing to use the traction engine to pull our road plows and our road graders and still refuse to build bridges and culverts strong enough to allow the same engine to pass in safety when pulling a threshing outfit or a train of farm wagons. But it is the truth, nevertheless.

In all the possibilities of the tractor, the old-fashioned traction engine, as a rule, people look upon it as an engine of destruction that ruins road surfaces, breaks culverts, breaks down bridges, scares horses and sets fire to barns and rail fences.

It is not fair, however. We could make the best use of the tractor on any and all farms of more than eighty acres. Some day we will make these engines do much of the work, the heavy hauling done by horse teams and we will save money by so doing. But that time will not come until we have better roads. And that cannot come to pass until we get a better supervision of road building than we have at present.

In many states the tractor driver who crosses a bridge takes a chance not only of injury to himself and his expensive engine, but also assumes the liability of having to repair the bridge if he breaks it down. Such laws discourage the use of tractors as much as they do better road building. The bridges are the worst feature of this condition.

The tractor has a right to use the public highways. It has just as much right to the public road as the heavy automobile, the overloaded farm wagon or any other heavy conveyance. The men who build such engines and the men who would like to own and use them should insist that these machines be given that right. No one dreams of forcing the automobile off the public highways now, and the overloaded farm wagon has used the public roads since they were the merest trails.

The heavy wheels and the weight of a tractor help pack the highways and make them more durable. The big wheels compact the road surface, and this is one reason why the tractor is so efficient as a road grader and builder. With good bridges and solidly built culverts there will be no trouble with the usual type of tractor, whether gas or steam.

We are going to have to pay more attention to the kind of work contractors do on our steel and concrete bridges and we will be forced to see that the original specifications make allowance for the weight of tractors.

Change to Broad Tires.

A wagon can be changed from narrow tires to broad tires at a very small cost. Don't wait for a law to force this upon you. Do it for the sake of the roads, for the sake of your tax money which maintains good roads.

Encourage Travel.

Good roads will encourage the country folks to come to town, and will bring the city folks out in the country for fresh air.

Good Roads Advocates.

It is gratifying to observe that every owner of an automobile immediately becomes an advocate of good roads.

Having Made Road.

Good roads appear to be having a hard time.

ANNOUNCING

The Forty-Fifth Anniversary of My Start in the Coal Business in Hopkinsville

When I first started coal retailed for 35c per bushel. The coal in those days was inferior to the present grade of coal which I sell.

In the beginning I decided to sell only the best grade of coal to be had. I first selected a mine with a good vein of coal and then a management which showed a willingness to properly screen and clean their coal. Regardless of cost to myself, QUALITY, HONEST AND CORRECT WEIGHT WERE ALWAYS PREDOMINANT WITH ME.

I have tried in the past forty-five years practically every coal mined in Western Kentucky.

It is a common expression with the mine owners that "Old Man Foulks" is the hardest coal dealer in the United States to please. They have long since come to realize that they must ship me good coal.

The proof that my policy has been a good one lies in the fact that the first few years I sold only a few hundred bushels, whereas last year I sold over 350,000 bushels of coal. I have never sacrificed quality, weight or service for a larger profit.

There are customers here who have stood by me continuously for over thirty years---and I have never betrayed the trust they placed in me. I am to-day sustaining the reputation which I have established.

I am going to fill coal houses during July with the best Lump Coal delivered at 9c per bushel.

I am going to guarantee this coal. For every pound of refuse and bad coal you get, I am going to clean your coal house next spring and give you good coal or a refund in money.

For those who care to pay cash during July, I am going to give a nice Coal Bucket---one that is worth having.

HUDSON-HOPSON.

Former Kentucky Girl Weds a Mississippi Planter.

A social event of much interest was the marriage of Mr. Lynn Boyd Hudson, of Hudsonville, Miss., to Miss Anne M. Hopson, the beautiful and attractive daughter of Mrs. Morgan Hopson, of Oxford, Miss., which occurred at the elegant country home of the bride's mother, at seven o'clock Wednesday evening, June 3, 1915.

The spacious hall, parlor and living room, were attractively decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being white, pink and green.

The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was indeed pretty, with an aisle leading from folding doors to mantle, formed of white columns, twined in green, connected by drapery of white maline, caught with white roses and ferns, each column bore a waxen taper, tied with pink butterfly bows of maline. A runner of white edged with lacy ferns completed this picturesque aisle.

The mantle was embellished with green, completed by the drapery of white maline, held by beautiful white roses. Waxen tapers and pink maline bows lending the soft touches that so charmed the eyes of many. At six o'clock the guests began to assemble and were received by Miss Lorena Hudson and shown into the living room where the wedding gifts were displayed. Scidom have we seen such a collection of handsome gifts.

Miss Maymie Strode Tichenor, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. Charlie Owen, of Holly Springs, Miss., presided at the wedding register and Mr. and Mrs. William Mathews Strickland, Jr., of Holly Springs, Miss., received at the parlor door.

Just before the ceremony Miss Mary Victoria Rowland, of Oxford, Miss., in her usual sweet manner, sang "At Dawning and I Love You."

Mendelssohn's wedding march was softly and sweetly played by Mrs. Herman Glenn, of Oxford, as the bridal party entered the parlor. Little Miss Mary Thompson Hudson as ring bearer, wore a lingerie dress daintily finished with lace and ribbons. A flower crown completed her attractive personage; she carried a white rose with ring concealed within the petals and entered first, followed by Miss Helen Haynes, of Oxford, as maid of honor, who was lovely in a gown of pink taffeta, entrained with white lace overdress, she carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses and ferns. The groom entered with the bride's brother, Mr. Garrett Allen Hopson; they wore the conventions! black full dress suits completed by buttonsires. Next came the bride on the arm of her attractive cousin and matron-of-honor, Mrs. Alexander Norwood Keller, of Collinston, La., who was handsome in her modish gown of ivory satin designed from a French model, with fan shaped trail and over drapery of black silk net, richly embroidered in silver and caught with pearl and silver buckles. She carried Killarney roses and ferns tied with scarf of pink tulle.

The bride was radiantly beautiful in her exquisite bridal robe of crepe-meteor with old lace and pearl trimmings. Her veil was held in place by a crown of natural orange blossoms and fell in misty folds to the hem of her long court train. Her only ornament was a handsome diamond bar pin, the gift of the groom. Her shower bouquet was of white roses and valley lilies, tied with embroidered lace scarf.

The ceremony was impressively said by Dr. James Leavell, of the First Baptist church of Oxford, Miss., after which they received congratulations in the living room, while many enjoyed cutting the bride's cake; this had been arranged by a decorator in pink and white roses, the favors being placed underneath the cake and fastened by ribbons to pink and white dream boxes for cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson left at 9:38 p. m. in a private car for an extended tour; they were accompanied to Oxford by the bridal party and out-of-town guests, among whom were: Mr. and Mrs. William Strickland,
